Pastor's Note

May 14, 2022

Do you know where your child will be going to school next year? Have you considered Adventist Education?

The campus our church sits on includes two other important organizations: Shenandoah Valley Adventist Elementary (SVAE), and Shenandoah Valley Academy (SVA). Both schools are crucial to the success of God's work here in the valley and beyond.

SVAE is a pre-K through 8th grade school with an exceptional history of helping students to know Jesus personally, as well as preparing them to grow academically, socially, and physically to their fullest potential. Both of my own daughters have been students at SVAE (my oldest graduated in 2015, and my youngest in 2019), and both will quickly tell you that their years at SVAE were some of the best of their lives.

SVA was established back in 1908—young by valley standards, but nonetheless impressive, as thousands of students have graduated from here since those humble beginnings more than 100 years ago. Today, students from around the globe come from their home countries to learn alongside other SVA students from the valley, Northern Virginia, Maryland, and beyond. About three quarters of our students live on campus for most of the school year, creating a nearly year-round energetic environment that cannot be equaled by a day school. If you want your child to grow and mature in ways that will give them a strong advantage in today's world, you simply must consider sending them to SVA.

Both schools are taking applications now! To find out more about SVAE, visit www.svaelementary.org or call 540-740-8237. To find out more about SVA, visit www.shenandoahvalleyacademy.org or call 540-740-3161. Seventh-day Adventist Education has no equal, and you owe it to yourself and your children to see what all the excitement is about!
