Pastor's Note

June 25, 2022

A warm welcome to each of you as you worship with us! And we are particularly honored if you're a guest today. We hope that you'll feel free to worship with us, ask questions, and stay for lunch once the services are over. (Don't worry if you didn't bring anything to contribute to lunch—as our guest, all the food and utensils are provided for you.) Thank you for coming!

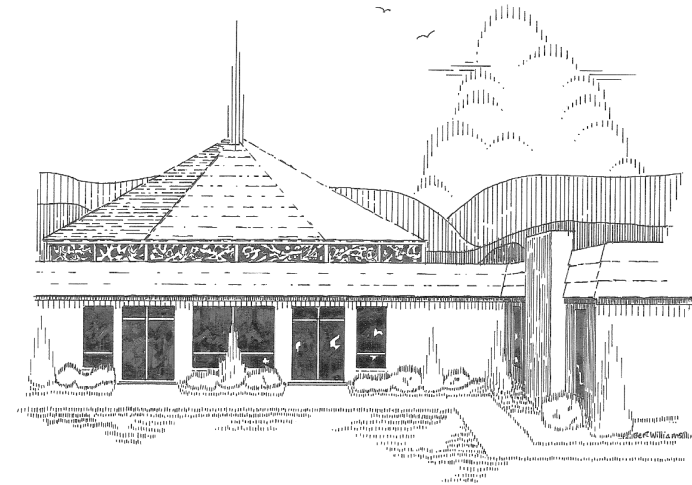

Recently, Adventist representatives from all over the world met in St. Louis, Missouri to conduct our every-five-years global church business meeting. The meeting is called "The General Conference Session," or just "GC" for short. GC had originally been slated to take place in 2020. But due to the pandemic, it was delayed, and by the time the Session was able to take place, it had actually been seven years since the last meeting.

At GC this year, many leaders that had served faithfully for years retired. In fact, this Session easily marks one of the watershed changing-of-the-guard moments in recent memory, as many of the Boomer Generation completed their formal leadership in the organized church.

Any time is a good time to pray for our church leaders. But perhaps now is an even better time than most. Every newly elected leader in the Seventh-day Adventist Church around the globe is facing a world that is increasingly distracted, increasingly in pain, and for many, increasingly in open conflict, whether physically or culturally. Sharing Christ can be challenging in the best of circumstances. Please join me in asking God for His Holy Spirit to fill each leader and member of the church, that the Gospel might go to all the world, and the Work of sharing Christ with others might be finished soon.

- Pastor Shane
