From Our Pastor

January 16, 2021

Welcome and Happy Sabbath! We're pleased you've decided to join our worship service this morning. It's been an extremely eventful last two weeks nationally, and it's good to know that there are times like the Sabbath that provide us with peace, strength, and renewal. May you and all those with you find your anchor in Jesus today.

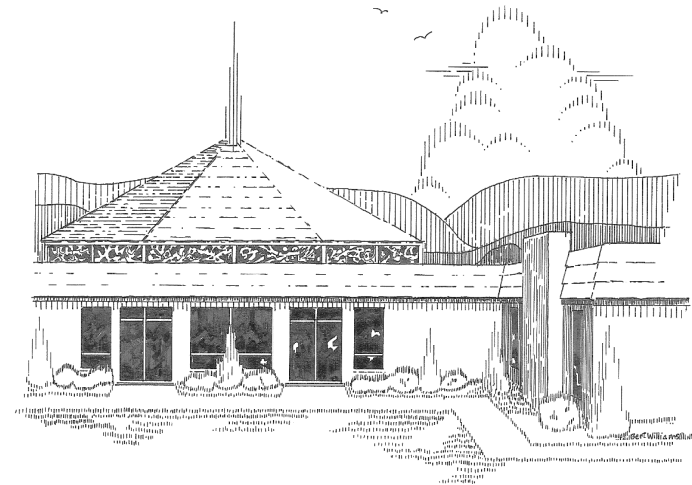

Speaking of these last two weeks, the events at the Capitol building on January 6 reminded us all once again how quickly things can change. As if the pandemic weren't enough (which in a single week took most of us from footloose and fancy free to locked down), we saw in mere minutes one of the most revered bastions of democracy become a battered, looted, and lethal crime scene. The world, she is a'changin', isn't she?

In the midst of that change, God asks us to do the seemingly impossible: Be calm, be strong, and stand firm—to be people that stand with honor for Him in these last days. How is this to be done? What does it look like? How are we fragile humans, with institutions that seem impenetrable one day and then made of tinfoil the next, supposed to be that kind of people?

Join us during the sermon time as we find the answers to these questions in God's Word.
