Pastor's Note

May 8, 2021

I suggest to you that Gen Z will be the largest unreached people group in the United States. I apologize to mission purists for using a loose definition of an unreached people group. Joshua Project defines an unreached people group as "a people group among which there is no indigenous community of believing Christians with sufficient numbers and resources to evangelize that people group without outside help."

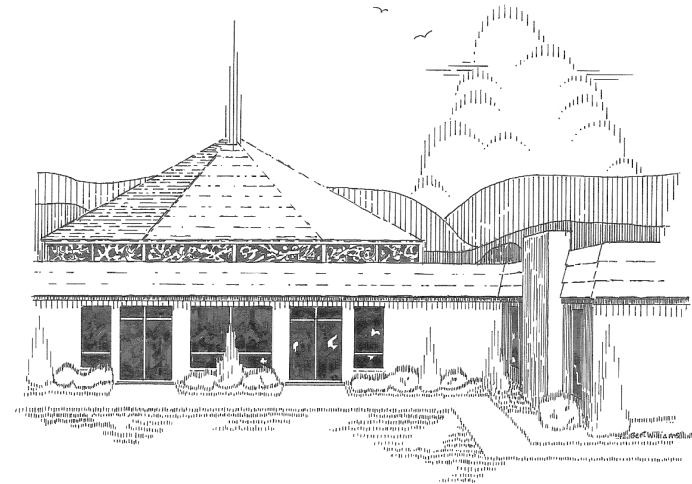

The vast majority of this generation comes from dysfunctional and non-traditional households; they have also been raised in a post-Christian and post-church culture. This generation is going to need a lot of outside help from committed parents and concerned church youth workers to bring them closer to Jesus.

Thank you, New Market Church, for helping me kick-start my journey to serving Generation Z (the faces of our future). Thank you for embracing me as one of your own. Although my internship comes to an end officially, my ministry with you has just begun.

Much love and big hugs to all of you!

Peter Petrie
