From Our Pastor

November 21, 2020

Welcome to the worship services of the New Market Seventh-day Adventist Church! Whether you're joining us in person, online, or outdoors, we are honored you've chosen to be with us today, and hope that your time with us—and most of all, with Jesus—will be a blessing.

Have you ever wished you could see Heaven? I have, and I'm guessing you have, too. Who wouldn't want to see a place that's perfect, that has no sin, no fighting, no chaos, and no traffic?

But unfortunately, wishes are not reality. And since there are no pictures in the Bible, we are left to our imaginations when it comes to "seeing" Heaven in all its glory and perfection.

Or are we?

It turns out that we actually do have some glimpses of heavenly things in the Bible—and I don't mean the books of Daniel or Revelation. I mean, instead, the ministry of Christ, when He was here on earth. As it turns out, there were a handful of occasions during that time when the curtain was pulled back, the distance between Heaven and earth was bridged, and the gloominess of this world was squashed by the blazing light of the world above.

I'd like to know more about those times. Wouldn't you? Please join us during the sermon time today as we explore just what it means, "When Heaven and Earth Meet."

Pastor Shane
